BISTLINE WITHDRAWS

Buy a Farm and Quits the Game of Politics.

B. O. Bistline of Bradner, was in the city and unexpectedly announced his withdrawal from the race for the Republican nomination for county clerk, says the Sentinel.

His many friends will be surprised to learn of this action, as he was believed to have an excellent chance notwithstanding the sterling qualities of his two competitors. He says he will always be found in the front ranks fighting for the success of the party and wishes to say that both his competitors are good clean men and that the party will make no mistake in nominating either of them. His past good party work is a guarantee that he cannot in the future help throwing off his coat when his services are needed.

Mr. Bistline has purchased a fruit farm east of Bradner on which he has had his eye for some time and whose earlier purchase would have kept him out of the race entirely. He will devote his attention to raising fruit and poultry and to looking after his oil interests which he feels will take up all his time.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Warrants Issued and Several Places Raided by Officers.

A slot machine, some poker chips and four hands smelling strongly of whisky were the fruits of a raid by the sheriff's office Saturday night upon six places about the county, says the Sentinel.

The raid was made under the search and seizure law, warrants having been issued by Probate Judge Nearing. The officers engaged were Sheriff A. C. Roach, Deputy W. C. Davenport, Deputy Fred Hankey and Special Deputy Alf B. Farmer, while Prosecutor Dunlap went along to look over the ground in case of finding anything.

At Rudolph the billiard parlor of David Miller was searched with the result that a slot machine and a poker table with chips were found. Mr. Miller was arrested and taken to the county jail.

At Tontogany James Stevenson's restaurant and Albert Heyman's store were searched. Nothing was found in the former place. As Officers Roach and Farmer entered Heyman's, the proprietor started through the back part of the store and, grabbing a jug, began emptying its contents. The officers followed him up stairs, he still emptying the jug. Holding out their hands, they caught drippings which smelt for all the world like whisky. The jug was confiscated for evidence. Nothing else of an incriminating nature was found in his store. There was some beer in his residence.

At Cygnet the places of Tony Farrell and E. J. Murphy were searched but no evidence of law violation was found.

Here in Bowling Green Dick Ramsey's soft drink emporium on North Main street was visited but nothing was found there to indicate that the proprietor is violating the Rose law. Mr. Heyman and Mr. Miller, both had preliminary hearings Monday morning. The former plead not guilty to violation of the Rose law and the latter not guilty to the charge of Rose law violation and of keeping a gambling place. Hearings in both cases were set down for nine o'clock on Thursday, the 7th. Sheriff Roach was over to Rudolph Monday morning again and got some empty whisky bottles from the Miller place. Miller was released on bail.

INJUNCTION SUIT

L. E. & B. G. Electric Ry. Has Trouble in Tontogany.

Adam Eddmon of Tontogany, has filed an injunction suit against the L. E. & B. G. N. Ry. Co.

Eddmon asks that the company be restrained from building their tracks and operating their cars on Broad street from Lincoln street down to the further end of his property on Broad. He recites the passage of the original ordinance, the controversy between the two companies, tells where the track is laid and then charges that everything done so far has been illegal, and then he asks that the company and the village of Tontogany be restrained from carrying out any of their plans.

LIFE.

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil; in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a check he is a thief; and then the law raises Cain with him; if he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest, but considered smart; if he is in politics he is a grafter and crooked; if he is out of politics, you can't place him, as he is "an undesirable citizen;" if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner; if he donates to foreign missions, he does it for show; if he doesn't he is stingy and a tight-wad. When he first comes into the world, everybody wants to kiss him—before he goes out they all want to kick him. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; if he lives to a ripe old age, he is in the way, only living to save funeral expenses. Life is a funny proposition after all.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA.

Does it not seem strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema?

A 25-cent bottle of a simple wash stops the itch and will surely convince any patient.

This wash is composed of mild and soothing oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol and glycerine, etc., and known as D. D. D. Prescription. We do not know how long the D. D. D. Laboratories will continue the 25c offer, as the remedy is regularly sold only in $1.00 bottles and has never before been put on the market on any special offers.

If you want relief to-night try a bottle at 25c on our personal recommendation.

Chas. P. Champney, druggist.

BAR RELATIVES

None but Undertakers Allowed to Prepare Body for Burial.

Relatives, neighbors nor friends will no longer be permitted to prepare a dead body for burial, according to a law recently passed by the Ohio legislature, and one which is endorsed by local licensed undertakers.

Under the provisions of the newly enacted law only licensed undertakers can prepare the body for burial. The undertakers permitted to perform this duty must have qualified under a state examination in sanitation, the law of circulation and preparation of bodies for burial.

These provisions, according to the interpretation placed upon the law by local undertakers, prevent any person other than a licensed undertaker from preparation of a body.

The law is intended to prevent the spread of contagious disease through disregard to the laws of sanitation.

Again, under the qualifications required for a license the chances of a body being buried alive are reduced to a minimum, because the test which is required by the licensed undertaker will show conclusively whether there is a spark of life left in the body.

OUR FIRE ALARM(?)

At least three or four times during the last week or two there has been occasion to ring the fire bell—our regard for truth prevents our calling it an alarm—and on each occasion we will venture to say that not more than 20 persons outside the immediate vicinity of the fire hall realized that it was an alarm to call out the fire department. The "dinky" little bell sounds about like a farmer's dinner bell or a bell on one of the C. & D. engines. If any disastrous fire should occur during the night half the town might burn up while the other half slept on in blissful ignorance of the conflagration insofar as there being any danger of their being aroused from their slumbers by the "rattle-box" now doing service in the capacity of a "fire alarm(?)"

We believe that the council should see to it that more adequate and effective means be provided for calling the firemen together in case of fire. At the fire one evening last week one man and two boys were compelled to tow the hose cart to the scene of the fire because others failed to hear the alarm(?) and such delay some time might prove disastrous and far more expensive than action taken in the right direction at the present time.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN

When Earth Passes Through Tail of Halley's Comet?

Many questions have been asked regarding the great comet that is expected to be nearest the earth on May 17, and the following questions and answers were among those asked and answered by Rev. Fr. Hillig of Toledo, and published in the Blade:

When will we be nearest to the comet?
On May 18, about 8 p. m., standard. The head of the comet will then be about 12,000,000 miles away from us, that is about half the distance of Venus from the earth when the two are at their nearest approach. There will be a transit of the comet across the sun's disc, because sun, comet and earth will then be in a straight line. The comet's tail will then brush over the earth's face provided the tail be over 12,000,000 miles long and half a million miles across at one earth's distance.

What will happen when we collide with the comet's tail?

Nothing in particular! There is as little danger in that collision as there is in colliding with the odoriferous particles emanating from the highly perfumed dress of a person that has crossed the sidewalk a few seconds before you arrive on that spot. The matter of the comet's tail is thinner than the residue of air contained in a globe after exhausting it with the most efficient air pump. Even if the cometary matter were the most poisonous gas—some of it is highly poisonous cyanogen—it could not hurt us, firstly, because it could hardly descend through our dense atmospheric envelope of 80 and more miles thickness, and, secondly, because it would be diluted in the air so as to become absolutely harmless.

Will the fact that we pass through the tail be noticed at all?

Perhaps and perhaps not. The earth has passed through a comet's tail on one or two former occasions without any sensible effect. The most that we may anticipate is a peculiar luminosity of the sky on the evening of May 18, or perhaps a meteoric shower. However, this prediction has less than half the probability with which the weather-man announces his probable showers.

CLEAN YOUR YARD

Assist in Making Our Village More Attractive.

Yet once again we cannot help but elaborate upon the beauties of our home town—and why not? There is not a place in the whole state of Ohio where nature has done more for the locality than right here in Perrysburg. Front street affords one of the most pleasant drives to be found anywhere and is traversed daily by hundreds of people in carriages, automobiles and on the street cars. Many of these persons are strangers to our little village and are perhaps out looking for some desirable place to locate. Then each property owner should deem it his duty to assist nature in her works of art in making more beautiful the property along this thoroughfare. Many realize this fact as the well groomed lawns and beautiful flowers and foliage will testify, while a few have failed to do their part and their lawns are neglected to such an extent that it greatly mars the general beautiful effect of the rest.

It requires no great amount of labor and expense to make the surrounding of your home attractive and makes it not only more desirable to yourself, but creates the impression among strangers that our citizens are imbued with the proper spirit of pride in the beauties of their home town.

NEW G. A. R. FLAG STAFF.

It is evident that Mr. Roosevelt will not talk for publication about home political affairs before he sets foot on American soil, but when, with a clean slate and with undiminished popularity, he returns to this country, can he be silent? No, not though he should be speechless and penless. His very looks, actions, greetings and meetings would be subject of political controversy. Mr. Roosevelt cannot help acting—not as actors act, not with stage effect, but from an inherent necessity of out-giving and speaking out. As a distinguished writer once said of him, "He does not wear his heart on his sleeve, but he wears his mind there." No one needs to ask twice what Mr. Roosevelt thinks, and when Mr. Roosevelt acts, no stage smaller than a continent or a planet will serve him. In the complete isolation enjoyed by him for the last twelve months after eight years of the most energetic political activity event enjoyed or endured by an American statesman or president, with the exception perhaps of Abraham Lincoln, it may be assumed that his reflections in the solitude of African veldt and forest have led to conclusions with reference to the welfare and the progress of his country that will find expression sooner or later in our national laws and politics.

"I have been somewhat costive, but Doan's Regulets gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."—George B. Krause, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.
